The TSF comprises 14 dams that make up the current facility (TSF1 and TSF2), with another 3 dams planned with the implementation of the Tailings 3 Expansion (TSF3), see figure 1. The TSF represents a confined facility in which tailings are deposited in accordance with mining and subsequent mill production. 1.3. General work background and constraints

The climate is classified as tropical warm, resulting in four seasons:

- Early February to late April, a short dry season;
- Late April to mid-August, a long rainy season;
- Mid-August to early December, a long dry season; and,
- Early December to late February, a short rainy season

RGM lies in a tropical climate with an average annual precipitation of 2284 millimeters (mm) and an average annual potential evaporation of 1513 mm.

Historically, RGM has completed construction throughout the drier periods of the year (usually July to December), but this is dependent on construction requirements and frequently includes January to March. For this proposal, contractors should take into account the potential for wet seasons.

The following working constraints should be considered for the proposal;

1. Estimations should include provision of onsite offices and workshop (if not already in place), a location of which will be provided by RGM. All mobilization and set-up costs (to include services and utilities) will be the responsibility of the contractor, and therefore an allowance should be made in the bill of quantities for preliminary costs.
2. RGM will cover all board (food and accommodation) for contractor personnel, unless there is a requirement for the personnel to be located off-site. In relation to the latter, a cost should be provided in the bill of quantities (BOQ).
3. RGM will cover all fuel for vehicles that are required for the TSF construction project.

Access

Site entry will be carried out in accordance with RGM standards, and RGM will complete necessary inductions. All personnel working at Rosebel Gold Mines (RGM) will be required to provide the standard entry requirements (medical, police clearance, etc). Further details will be provided as required by the HR department. Only working vehicles (company-assigned) are permitted on-site. All Personal vehicles will have to be parked outside the main gate in a designated car park.
